Authorization Requirements

Because MAS 200 for SQL Server is a technologically advanced product, our channel partners must obtain specific certifications to sell and support it. Channel partners must obtain the three Microsoft certifications listed below and the MAS 200 for SQL class with a passing grade on course assessment test before their company can be authorized to sell MAS 200 for SQL Server or receive their MAS 200 for SQL Server Reference Library. Two individuals employed by the partner can jointly hold the required certificates (i.e., one employee can hold two, while another can hold the third). However, if the three required certifications are held jointly by two people, then both employees must attend the MAS 200 for SQL Server class and pass the assessment.
